

USPS® Management

Creating visibility and maintaining all postal expense data across your enterprise is essential to uncovering potential savings and optimizing your mailing operations. By consolidating data from in-house operations, USPS® permits, and mail handled by outside print and mail services, you can gain comprehensive insights into your total postal spend and identify areas for improvement.

Outsourced Mail & Print Services

Create visibility and maintain all print and mail done by third parties across your enterprise, to identify and execute on savings areas that would otherwise be missed.

Presort Management

Optimize the use of mail presort services across your enterprise, identifying savings in both active presort services (mail processed on-site or by third parties) and new locations sending mail without discounts.

Mail Equipment Management

Create visibility and oversight of all mail equipment across your enterprise, to identify and execute on savings areas that would otherwise be missed. This includes postage meters, mail machines, folder and inserters, envelope printers, mail openers and extractors, shipping and tracking systems, postal automation software, document creation utilities and services provided by your mail equipment suppliers.

Enterprise Online Postage & Shipping Administration

Implementing and managing online platforms for all locations and users to create access to postage and shipping. This support covers access to everything from printing a postage stamp to rate shopping parcels between USPS®, FedEx®, UPS®, and DHL®.

Inbound Mail & Parcel Management

Automating the receipt, tracking, and distribution of mail and parcels across an organization can significantly improve efficiency, reduce manual errors, and optimize the workflow for handling incoming mail. By leveraging digital platforms, intelligent lockers, and tracking systems, your organization can streamline the entire mail process from receipt to delivery to the final recipient or department.

Vendor Billing Support Services

Paying for mail equipment, services, and postage across multiple locations and vendors can certainly become overwhelming. It's easy to lose track of costs, be billed incorrectly, especially when dealing with a large, distributed enterprise. Postal Advocate can help create visibility, consolidate onto master invoices, review charges, request credits, and even pay bills to streamline processes.
